Corporations Help Alumni Give Two for One

Many Oglethorpe University alumni have the opportunity of giving twice as much money as before for the support of the NAAOU program with no additional personal expense. This seeming paradox is the result of the Corporate Alumnus Giving Program which some 40 American corporations now have in effect to help institutions of higher learning.

The Program, established by General Electric Co., consists of corporations matching contributions (up to $2,000) which employees give their alma maters.

If you are employed by one of the following companies which are currently participating in the Program, please note this on your check.

Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp., Bank of New York, Whitney Blake Co., Bonwit Teller, Burlington Industries, Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Campbell Soup Co., Canadian General Electric Co., Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

Continental Oil Co., Dow Chemical Co., Draper Corp., W. T. Grant Co., General Electric Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., Gulf Oil Corp., Hewlett-Packard Co., Hill Acme Co., J. M. Huber Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Kaiser Steel Corp., Walter Kidde and Co.

Koiled Kords, Inc., Lehigh Portland Cement Co., Manufacturers Trust Co., National Distillers Products Corp., Owen-Corning Fiberglass Corp., Pannsalt Chemicals Co., Reliable Electric Co., Scott Paper Co., Smith, Kline & French Laboratories, Tektronix, Inc., Wallingford Steel Co., Warner Bros. Co., John Wiley & Sons, Young and Rubicam, Deering Millikan & Co., S. C. Johnson & Sons, O'Sullivan Rubber Corp.

Plans are set for the second annual Alumni Dinner-Dance which will be held at the Hellenic Center in Atlanta on Saturday, November 1 at 7 PM. At least 200 alumni, double the number last year, are expected to attend.

The first function of this type was held at the Ansley Golf Club where capacity was limited to just over 100 people. Response was considerably greater than anticipated and many alumni were disappointed when they were informed that all tickets had been sold.

This year your executive committee believes the Hellenic Center will be large enough to hold all alumni and their guests who want to attend.

The social hour begins at 7 PM and dinner will be served at 8. An orchestra will play from 9 to 12 for your listening and dancing pleasure.

For tickets ($4.00 per person) call Mrs. Albert (Betty Rae Olds) Villegas '49 at CE 3-3851 or write her at 731 Darlington Circle, N.E., Atlanta 5, Georgia.

Humanics Retreat

The fourth annual pre-school humanics retreat was held at Hard Labor Creek State Park for three days, beginning Friday, September 12.

Oglethorpe is the only college in the Southeastern area which offers this youth leadership training program.

Mr. L. "Pop" Crow, resident administrator of the American Humanics Foundation, announced that the meeting will enable students to "get acquainted with humanics and the University, get the student Humanics Assn. underway for the year, gain esprit de corps, and have an enjoyable time."

DR. COHEN RECEIVES $20,700 RESEARCH GRANT

A research grant of $20,700 has been awarded Oglethorpe University by the National Science Foundation. Dr. Arthur L. Cohen, Professor of Biology, will direct the research project. The grant will be used for a study, with the aid of an electron microscope, of the effect of physical factors on development.

This project is a continuation of one which Dr. Cohen has carried on at Oglethorpe for several years under the auspices of the American Cancer Society and the National Science Foundation. In 1956, he received a Guggenheim Fellowship which allowed him to study for a year in Holland, Germany, and Switzerland to further this research.

Dr. Cohen received his A. B. degree from Stanford University in 1937, and his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from Harvard University in 1939 and 1940. He has been on the faculty of Oglethorpe University since 1947.

Converse College Dean Addresses Oglethorpe University Seniors

Dr. Elfred C. Morgan, Dean of Administration at Converse College, delivered the convocation address at Oglethorpe University's Opening of College and Senior Capping Ceremony on September 18.

This event was one of the highlights of Orientation Week.

APPLICATIONS FOR FRESHMAN CLASS

Alumni who have sons or daughters who desire to enter Oglethorpe University in September, 1959, should have them file their applications by mid-term of their senior year at high school.

Inquiries from high school seniors showing an interest in Oglethorpe are some 300 per cent over last year at this time. It now appears that dormitory space may not meet the demand for the coming year.

Specific information about entrance into Oglethorpe is being given at "college days" in high schools in Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, and South Carolina during the Fall Quarter. Information bulletins are made available at these meetings or will be mailed upon request.

All requests should be directed to Dean George C. Seward, Oglethorpe University, Ga. His office can be reached by telephone at CE 3-6772.

Campus NEA

Chapter Formed

A student National Education Association has been organized at Oglethorpe this year for prospective teachers.

Frequent seminars will be held at which teaching problems and their solutions will be aired.

The first seminar consisted of a panel discussion, on October 17, with Oglethorpe professors taking part. They explained the ideals of education and the Oglethorpe Plan.

1958-1959 STUDENT BODY IS TOPS

Scholastically, Oglethorpe University has the strongest student body it has had in many years, perhaps stronger than it has ever had.

This situation has been brought about by a strict enforcement of higher admission standards for the past two years.

As a result of this policy, classes are livelier, and the school spirit of faculty members and students is higher. Our students take pride in the fact that Oglethorpe now has one of the toughest admissions standards in the State of Georgia.

As we expected, our total enrollment has decreased during this same span of years, even though applications for admission have risen considerably. This year, we accepted approximately two of every three applicants.

In previous issues of THE FLYING PETREL you have read of our plans for expansion. We are pointing toward a goal of 600 students which we intend to reach within ten years, but not at the expense of quality in the classroom or in the student body.

Our plans for attaining this number include hiring Mike Murphey last February for full-time student recruitment, upping the appeal of our literature, a limited amount of advertising, increasing the amount and coverage of news releases and public relations, and urging our students to write and talk with their high school friends about Oglethorpe.

We invite you to join in this expansion program by talking to parents of high school students, and to the students, too, about the advantages of an Oglethorpe University education. You will be talking about one of the finest educational institutions in the nation.

We have discovered that personal contact of this sort is more convincing to students and parents than all of the other methods combined.

For more information, have them write, call or come by to see Dean George C. Seward, Oglethorpe University, Atlanta, Ga.

Make it a point to mention "Oglethorpe University" everyday.

Mrs. Lenora Baldwin

Registered Nurse Joins Staff

Mrs. Lenora Baldwin, RN, has joined Oglethorpe University as resident nurse.

Trained at Woodlawn Infirmary in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, Mrs. Baldwin has had considerable experience in many types of institutions. She comes to Oglethorpe from several years at Georgia Military Academy.

Continuing Education

Dr. Richard Reser, Chairman of Adult Education, has announced the 6 courses that will comprise Oglethorpe's Winter Quarter evening classes.

They include Oil Painting, Advanced Interior Decoration, Gardening, Personal Investments Seminar, Science for the Layman, and The Ways of Man.

Classes are limited as to size, so to assure your place in the class of your choice, pre-register now. For more information call Mrs. MacConnell, registrar at CE 3-6772, or write to her c/o Oglethorpe University, Atlanta, Georgia

Citizenship Division

Two new faculty appointments in the Division of Citizenship at Oglethorpe University have been announced by Dr. George C. Seward, Dean of the College.

Mr. William A. Carroll, whose major field of study was political theory, will teach courses in American government and political studies. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Brown University and his master of arts degree from Georgetown University. Previously, Mr. Carroll taught and held the position of research analyst at Georgetown University.

Mr. Leo Bilancio will instruct classes in western civilization and modern European history. Mr. Bilancio earned his bachelor of arts degree from Knox College and his master of arts degree from the University of North Carolina, where his concentration was in the field of European history.

Oglethorpe University Holds First Pre-School Conference

In a successful effort to get the current year off to a better start, a pre-school conference of Oglethorpe faculty and staff was initiated by Dr. Agnew.

Faculty committees, the various Divisions, and administrators conferred individually and collectively, on September 11 and 12, on all phases of the Oglethorpe program. They were joined on September 15 by members of the Board of Trustees.

The results were comparable to an automobile's automatic transmission as the transition from summer vacation through orientation week to full speed classwork was made with exceptional smoothness and speed.

Oglethorpe Hosts Youth Leaders Institute

A three-day Leadership Training Institute was held on the Oglethorpe University campus beginning October 14, sponsored by Oglethorpe University, the American Humanities Foundation and some twenty youth serving agencies of Atlanta.

Designed for all professionals in the Youth Service field in Atlanta and environs, it was conducted by Ben Solomon, editor of the "Youth Leader's Digest" and Ethel Bowers, associate editor.

Some 50 were in attendance.

Al Sheppard Wins Woodrow Wilson Fellowship

Al Sheppard '58 is one of five, four-year college graduates in the State of Georgia who have been awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. He is now doing graduate work in physics at Emory University.

To be eligible for Fellowships, applicants must indicate a desire to do college teaching, do exceptionally well scholastically and be nominated by a faculty member.

Al, a native of Griffin, Georgia, is listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

He was vice-president of the freshman class, president of the Baptist Student Union and Boar's Head Fraternity and corresponding secretary of Blue Key National Leadership Fraternity.

Al was also an undergraduate assistant in the physics laboratory and instructed algebra students requiring remedial work.

American Foreign Policy

Oglethorpe University is the site of one of six Atlanta area study groups sponsored by the American Foundation for Political Education.

The subject discussed is "American Foreign Policy". The group first met on Monday, October 6 and will continue to meet each Monday for a total of eleven weeks.

Mrs. Frances Pauley, coordinator for the Atlanta area, stated that "the purpose of these sessions is to help the individual who participates to have a deeper appreciation of world politics and particularly to help them participate in making better foreign and domestic policies."

The leaders of the six groups now under way in the Atlanta area received their training at Oglethorpe in September under the direction of Harry Boardman, Eastern Director of the Foundation.

Coach

Author Pinholster

Have you read "Fall Conditioning Program for High School Basketball"? An official of Prentice-Hall did in the November, 1956 issue of Scholastic Coach, a national coach's publication. As a result, the well-known publishing firm asked the author, Garland F. Pinholster, Oglethorpe University Athletic Director, to write a book containing the best and most-complete set of basketball drills ever compiled.

After six months of constant work reviewing nine years of notes and talking with hordes of coaches throughout the South, Pinholster finished "The Encyclopedia of Basketball Drills" in time for it to be the September, 1958 feature of the Coach's Book Club.

"Drills" has more than 250 drills with diagrams (art editor, Mrs. Garland F. Pinholster) packed into its 228 pages.

Dr. Abbott

Dr. Martin L. Abbott, Professor of History at Oglethorpe University, has had an article published in the Autumn issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society.

Entitled "President Lincoln in Confederate Caricature," it undertakes to show how Confederate writers lampooned and ridiculed Lincoln, stressing his deficiencies and exaggerating his foibles, largely for purposes of promoting morale on the home front within the Confederacy. Lincoln, in other words, became the symbol toward which Confederate writers, through caricature, encouraged the people at large to direct their spite and contempt of the enemy.

Dr. Abbott also addressed the youth fellowship group at the Tucker Methodist Church in Tucker, Georgia in October. His subject was "The History of the Christian Sacraments."

Coach of the Year receives bronze plaque from Ed Miles '27 Steve Schmidt, OABC president and Dr. Agnew approve.

PINHOLSTER FETED

Coach Garland F. Pinholster was guest of honor at the first OABC dinner-meeting of the 1958-59 school year. His selection as Georgia's Basketball Coach of the Year by sportswriters of the Atlanta Newspapers, Inc., was recognized in a plaque which was presented him by Ed Miles '27, Atlanta Journal sportswriter.

Some 50 in attendance heard Pinholster say "from a physical and talent standpoint, this is the best team I have ever coached. If the team morale is half as good as it was last year, and it's great now, we should have a very successful season."

President Donald C. Agnew and O. U. Trustee Bill Perkins '29 made statements concerning the progress of the fieldhouse. They said an architectural firm has been selected by the Board of Trustees and plans including front, rear and side elevations and floor plans have been completed. However, the architect's rough cost estimate is somewhat over the limit set by the Board. A more detailed set of plans is now in progress so that a closer cost estimate can be made. The odds are better than even that ground will be broken late this year.

Pinholster introduced the 1958-59 eleven-man basketball squad to the Boosters.

Prior to the beginning of the school term he introduced Jay Dye 6'6" pivot man from Jonesboro, La., to Dr. Agnew as a member of the debating team. Jay entered Oglethorpe this year as a junior. He is a good defensive man and rebounder as well as a sharp shooter. His understudy is Sammy Hudgins a 6'3" sophomore transfer from Truett McConnell Jr. College.

Of the four returning lettermen, three are guards. Senior Billy Carter, 5'10½", according to his high school coach Jim Hinson '49, "has only one playing speed — full speed." It looks like Billy will again be the team's sparkplug. Wayne Dobbs, 5'10", is an exceptionally cool player for a sophomore. Southpaw Joe Sewell, 6'1" junior, is the squad's hardluck man. Last year, due to glandular fever, he could not play ball until January. He is now recovering from a broken collar bone he suffered this summer.

The fourth guard is freshman, Tommy Norwood, 5' 11", a former Pinholster basketball student at Southwest DeKalb High School. Tommy was high scorer last year in Region 4-AAA.

Open Letter to Boosters

May I point out the purpose of the Petrel Booster Club? It is to promote the physical education, intramural and varsity athletic programs through our moral and financial support.

This year we have fine prospects for an excellent basketball season. Come see some of the games, renew old acquaintances and see some real college spirit plus some good basketball.

Shortly, you will receive a letter regarding dues and pledges. We invite you to take part in this program and be a part of the successful athletic team Oglethorpe is now enjoying.

Dues for the Booster Club is ten dollars per year. For those of you who are going to graduate school or have not been in the work-a-day world for long, ten dollars is a mighty big sum to you and to Oglethorpe. Your support will be greatly appreciated. However, we who are established can be of more financial aid.

During its first year of existence, your OABC has provided the means for three boys who could not afford to attend college to gain an education. Also, without Booster Club support, Oglethorpe would not have been able to field a baseball team last year.

We have been challenged by the Oglethorpe University Board of Trustees to raise $5,800 this year to further this program. Some $1,230 has been received in dues, gifts and pledges to date — over 20 per cent of the goal. Your help is necessary to meet this challenge successfully.

You can be proud of the vital role your organization is playing in our alma mater's operations. This is possible only through your dues and gifts. Please be generous when your letter arrives.

FINE ARTS

Mr. Ralph Lawton, internationally known piano soloist and music critic for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, has joined the Fine Arts Division at Oglethorpe. He will teach music theory courses and direct the University chorus.

Mr. Lawton has made appearances with the Atlanta Symphony and has had recitals and played soloist in most of the major cities in the United States.

He has also had extensive concert tours in England and France, recitals throughout Europe, and engagements as piano soloist with many symphony orchestras, including the Vienna Philharmonic, Salzburg Symphony, London Philharmonic, Paris Philharmonic, and the National Symphony Orchestra of Costa Rica.

MP Talks At O. U.

Dr. Horace King, a Labor member of the British Parliament, talked to two groups of Oglethorpe students on Wednesday, October 8.

He discussed "British Foreign Policy" with the International Relations class and reviewed current "British Problems" at a general assembly open to all students.

Competition is keen for the forward posts. O. U. letterman John Mobley, 6'4" senior, will have to hustle to win a starting berth. Two 6' 3½" crack-shots Senior Pat Stephens and Sophomore Roger Couch, are vying for left forward. Mobley, senior Frankie Lentz, 6' 2" jumping jack who can "dunk" a basket with two hands, and freshman Jay Rowland, 6' 1" high school All-American last year from Gainesville, Florida, are making it a hot fight for the right forward slot.

Pinholster has a problem this year. He has to decide who will start in each game, knowing full well that his bench will be just about as strong as the squad on the floor. It's a much happier worry and considerably different from last season.

Of our 22 game schedule, 13 will be home games played in the new Cross Keys High School gymnasium, located 1½ miles from the O. U. campus. Post the schedule in a conspicuous place so you will see every home game. Circle in red, December 10, when the Petrels tangle with Presbyterian College, our Homecoming game.

MR. RICHARD A. MAIER

Mr. Richard A. Maier, professor of psychology at Oglethorpe, has had an article "Forced Therapy of Probated Alcoholics" published in the September issue of The Medical Times.

Mr. Maier is also a psychologist at the Georgian Clinic, a state supported project set up solely for the study and rehabilitation of alcoholics.

His article reports the findings of a study of 29 alcoholic subjects who were probated to the Clinic by the municipal court of Atlanta after they were convicted of a variety of charges. All of them have had previous jail terms.

The use of group psychotherapy, under Mr. Maier's direction, produced "great improvement in seven cases and some improvement in four others." The results were striking, because no success in forcing alcoholics into therapy have been reported previously.

Dr. And Mrs. Bieler Visit, Study in Europe

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Bieler returned prior to the beginning of school after a three month's stay in Europe.

They visited France, Italy, Switzerland, Monaco, Austria and Germany.

Dr. Bieler, Oglethorpe professor of modern languages, studied during the month of August at the University of Besancon, France, under a research grant from the Southern Fellowships Fund.

"Young Trials, Great Tribulations"

Charlie Scarratt '51 stayed in Atlanta for the past month to plug two songs he has written and recorded for Felsted Records.

The records "Two Innocent Lovers" and "Lovemobile" were released during the second week in October and sales are gratifying.

A previous release "Young Trials and Great Tribulations" sung by Hank Edwards on a Dot label was 43 in the nation at last report. Translated, it means well-over 50,000 records have been sold to date.

Charlie seems to be well on his way in the dual role of singer and composer. Why not drop down to the nearest platter shop and give a listen?

DR. A. CHEEVER CRESSY

Dr. A. Cheever Cressy, professor of International Relations at Oglethorpe, attended the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association held in St. Louis, Missouri, in September.

He also talked to the Atlanta Civilians about "United Nations Realities" on Tuesday, October 21. Dr. Cressy will discuss "Long-Range Objectives for our Foreign Policy" on a panel at a workshop of the League of Women Voters at the Public Library on November 10 at 1:00 P.M.

O. U. Alumni Hold Positions at Emory

Several alumni are serving in widely different capacities with Oglethorpe University's Atlanta neighbor Emory University.

Dr. John Goff '20, lifetime member of the NAAOU, has been appointed Acting Dean of the School of Business Administration. Prior to his appointment, he had been associated with Emory for 12 years as professor of business administration.

John L. Jacobs, M.D. '23 has been named part time faculty member.

Robert D. England '34 will lecture in business administration this year.

Miss Denny Wells Spencer '48 is private secretary to Emory president, Dr. Walter S. Martin.

G. Ross Freeman '52 is Assistant Dean of the School of Theology. He has also served as Director of Emory's Town and Country Church Development.

Lane Hardy '55 is teaching mathematics.

Carolyn Morris Webb '59 is a research assistant and is also learning the intricacies of the electron microscope.

We are pleased that Oglethorpe University alumni are playing such an important role in the Emory program.
